

NLRB AGAIN POSTPONES NOTICE REQUIREMENT

The National Labor Relations Board (NLRB) has again postponed the requirement for private employers to post notice of employee rights under the Nation Labor Relations Act (NLRA). See our previous analysis here, here, and here. Employers now have until April 30, 2012 to post the required notice. The board said it “has determined that postponing the effective date of the rule would facilitate the resolution of the legal challenges that have been filed with respect to the rule.” These legal challenges include the targeted legislation previously discussed.
