

APPELLATE PRACTICE

Hall Render's appellate practice extends to all areas of the firm's health care and litigation practices. Our experienced appellate attorneys have successfully defended favorable trial judgments and challenged and overturned adverse trial court decisions in numerous state and federal courts. Hall Render is a full-service law firm and applies its resources to appellate work in the most efficient and cost-effective manner possible. Where appropriate, we draw from all areas of the firm's multi-faceted health care practice to ensure success at trial and to structure our cases for success on appeal.
