HALL RENDER
KILLIAN HEATH & LYMAN

FEDERAL LEGISLATIVE & REGULATORY ADVOCACY

A strong knowledge of health care law and the federal government forms the foundation of Hall Render's Federal Legislative & Regulatory Advocacy practice area. Our attorneys and policy advisors bring decades of experience in the development and implementation of health policy initiatives for a variety of health care organizations. They have the knowledge and experience to identify issues contained in federal legislation and regulations and the ability to provide an in-depth analysis of how those issues will impact our health care clients.

Our attorneys and policy advisors have strong relationships developed through years of work on Capitol Hill and in the Executive Branch of the federal government. They routinely work with Members of Congress and committee staff to draft federal legislation, secure federal funding or stop measures that might adversely affect the interests of our health care clients. Our attorneys and policy advisors not only have insight as to how Congress works, they know which committees and people are critical to advancing a client's interests on Capitol Hill. Additionally, Hall Render was named one of the Top-Performing Lobbying Firms of 2020 by Bloomberg Government.

Our attorneys and policy advisors also have years of experience representing clients before federal regulatory agencies such as the Centers for Medicare & Medicaid Services, Health Resources and Services Administration, National Institutes of Health and the Federal Communications Commission. They have developed strong relationships with political appointees and career department officials. Whether it's meeting with agency staff or making public comment, our attorneys and policy advisors are well positioned to ensure client interests are considered in the federal rulemaking process.
